

HUNGARIAN BISHOP PLEADS CAUSE OF BANKRUPT COLLEGE

Distinguished Visitor Addresses Three Meetings in Short Stay in City.

Dr. Desider Baltazar, bishop of the Hungarian Reformed Church, addressed three meetings in the city Friday in the interest of the Hungarian Reformed College at Debrecen, Hungary. Dr. Baltazar spoke at a banquet held at the Oliver hotel at 5:30 p.m., at a church service at the Hungarian Reformed church at 7 o'clock, and at a meeting at Magyar hall.

At a mass meeting of the Hungarian people held later in the evening at Magyar hall for the purpose of raising funds for the support of the Hungarian Reformed college at Debrecen, Dr. Baltazar was also the principal speaker, and a large sum was donated to the furthering of the movement he was backing.

In his talk the speaker pointed out the great need of financial aid for educational development in Hungary. "Before the time of the world war Hungary supported four universities," Dr. Baltazar said. "Today we are putting forth every possible effort to support two colleges, the Reformed College of Debrecen and the university of Budapest."

Dr. Baltazar is 60 years old and has at all times held the respect of the Hungarian people, in fact, the respect of all people interested in the advancement of education. It is considered in the light of a shrine or monument to the cause which should not lose its stronghold. Before the war approximately 5,000 students attended the university, with about 400 professors comprising the faculty. At that time we had an endowment fund of which the interest of the fund itself was sufficient for the upkeep of the school. The war condition took away our endowment fund and the university is penniless today.

In concluding his talk Dr. Baltazar explained how $10 of American money, with the depreciation of the Hungarian money, would be sufficient to send one man to the university for an entire year.

At the dinner meeting held at the Oliver hotel, Mayor Eli Seebird delivered the principal address of welcome to Dr. Baltazar. Dr. Archibald McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, also delivered a short speech of welcome.

Dr. Baltazar arrived in this country from Hungary early in June and is making his tour of the United States in the interests of the Hungarian Reformed college. During his short stay in South Bend he was the guest of Rev. John Deaso, pastor of the local Hungarian Presbyterian church.

Social Service Federation Makes Trip of Inspection

A "Come and See" trip was made by the Federation of Social Service yesterday afternoon to each of the 11 organizations of the federation. The executives, directors, and others interested in the various works of the federation made the journey to each of the units to see what work is being done and how each organization is equipped or handicapped. The trip to the different organizations was made in automobiles.

The "Come and See" journey was made to bring about the highest possible amount of co-operation between the executive committee of the federation and the most advantageous utilization of those branches. At the present time most of the executives are comparatively new and unfamiliar with the other officers, as well as unfamiliar with the facilities of the other organizations for handling cases in their particular line. This handicap is expected to be eliminated in part, at least, by yesterday's trip.

Kuga Ordered Held for Grand Jury Indictment

Joseph Kuga, 1923 Pacific av., whose preliminary hearing for alleged assault with intent to kill George Vlach, 308 S. Franklin st., took up the greater part of Friday's session of city court, was found guilty Friday afternoon by Judge Chester L. DuComb and bound over for indictment by the circuit court grand jury. Bonds for appearance at the September term were furnished to the amount of $10,000.

TOROKS COP FAST TILT FROM RUM VILLAGERS

Charm Village "old timer" fell before the fast little Torok Friday afternoon in a baseball game at Oliver field. Score, 9 to 1. "Cruxey" did the hurting for the village while "Paul" worked behind the plate. "Chet" hurled the Toroks to victory. "Noodle" was his receiver. "Fat" Nemeth, spokesman and general manager of the Toroks, hit second baseman's head for three bases. "Paul" seeing this to his team mates, in the "Babe Ruth" of the team of the city. The Toroks and Villagers will play again next Tuesday afternoon at Oliver field.

Shrdlu! What's It Mean? Clarence Stueckle Can Tell

Non-Payment of Note Makes
Barrister Owner of Distant
Rival of Morvich.

"Nice old boss, young, eight years old. This coming spring, one eye out. The other one in. But a darn good boss. For the shape he's in."

Atty. Clarence Stueckle went on a friend's note two months ago, accepting as security a horse, harness and old survey.

Friday the note fell due, but the money with which to retire the note was lacking.

"You can't draw blood out of a turnip," was the excuse given for non-payment.

It seems that the barrister who guaranteed the payment of the note didn't care particularly about adopting a small celebration, and turned the matter over to one of his next of kin.

His friend, in company with five other men took the horse, harness and survey and gave the outfit a workout. It was in the nature of a small celebration. During the evening, Warren Hickey, east side labor leader, decided that the harness and survey were of no value so discarded them.

But the horse—his legs were badly injured by the adherence to Hoban's drug store, a white broom was attached to his tail and a placard bearing the inscription: "Go Whiz—full brother to Man O' War" was suspended from his neck. The horse was then, tied to the front porch of Atty. Stueckle who was out at the time.

The horse may be bought for a song now.

When Mr. Stueckle was interviewed last night on the subject of the horse and promissory notes he merely said:

"Shrdlu!"

COUNTY OFFICIALS NAME HILDEBRAND

Judge Pro-Tem Selected to Serve During Balance of Present Court Term.

Atty. A. N. Hildebrand was named Friday as judge of superior court No. 2 to fill the balance of the present term of the court, following the vacating of the judgeship by the death of Judge Fred C. Klein. The present term of the court will probably be brought to an end with the completion of the murder trial now before it.

On account of the fact that Judge Klein was the republican nominee for reelection as judge of superior court No. 2, there is now a vacancy in the office, which is composed of committee of the various precincts of the county, will meet in the near future to name a candidate to be voted on at the fall election.

The appointment of Judge Hildebrand was made by William M. Warner, county clerk, Clarence Sedgwick, county auditor, and Lew Luk, county sheriff, the state law providing that these officials should fill such a vacancy as developed with the death of Judge Klein.

During Judge Klein's illness, Mr. Hildebrand had been acting as judge pro-tem.

JUDGE HILDEBRAND

judge pro-tem of superior court No. 2, but the bench became vacant by Judge Klein's death, and the appointment of Mr. Hildebrand as judge pro-tem likewise became vacant.

Immediately after his appointment Judge Hildebrand adjourned court until Monday out of respect to the late Judge Klein.

Democratic Women of County Plan Campaign

Plans for an aggressive campaign among democratic women voters will be made Tuesday when Mrs. P. Flynn, the state vice chairman will meet the seven chairwomen in this congressional district.

These ladies, with Mrs. Carpenter of Elkhart, district vice chairman, will be guests at luncheon at the Chain Mary district, club of Frank May, district chairman.

BOARD OF SAFETY DEFERS ACTION ON PURCHASE OF AUTO

Board May Yet Purchase Local Built Car for Police Department.

Definite action on the purchase of a new high-powered touring car for emergency work in the police department, was deferred until today, when the agreement entered into several weeks ago between the board of safety and the local agent for the Cadillac Co. will be carefully considered.

Some weeks ago the board agreed to the purchase of a used Cadillac car, at a price a few dollars less than the $2000 limit beyond which the board would be required to seek an appropriation from the common council. The order for the Cadillac car carried with it the proviso that certain tests for speed and endurance must be made to qualify it for local acceptance. Thus far the Cadillac Co. is to have failed to live up to this agreement since the final test cannot be accomplished until the machine is again turned over to the board for a maintenance of speed test.

The test made a week ago was made without a speedometer and when this was noticed by the board members they agreed to make the run over the streets and pavements specified, merely as a trip and not as a test.

It is a well known fact that sponsors for the "Studebaker" were disappointed over the board's action in favor of an out-of-town make. As a high-speed touring car, the Studebaker would qualify any kind of test, it was maintained.

Fate favored the home product when after the Cadillac was received by the department, engine trouble developed, and it is said, on a straight-away course fell down on its speed test. Then the Studebaker agency sought the board members for a demonstration of their own car.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Davies Pyle and Smogor boarded a Big-Six Studebaker and were taken on a tour of the city roads for a test. Speed limits were recognized until a considerable clearance of other traffic was obtained and the throttle then pulled gradually open.

Made Speed Tests.

The car was loaded with seven passengers, under full load, the condition required when hunting bank robbers.

Forty-50-60 and then 70 miles an hour.

"Wait a minute," shouted Mr. Davies, his eyes glued to the speedometer.

The car slowed to "50" and the board president was permitted to catch his breath.

"Let's take a gravel road and we will see what it can do on that," suggested a member.

May Buy Studebaker.

It was admitted there was a veritable sand storm. A speed of 60 miles was maintained on a gravel road.

That's fast enough," was the board members' ultimatum after the party's return to town.

That the Studebaker "made good," the claims of its sponsors there is no doubt. What action the board may take, whether another Cadillac or a Studebaker Big-Six at a probable better price than what the used car would have cost, will be before the board for consideration tonight.

County Bar Will Attend Funeral Of Judge Klein

All County Business to Be Suspended as Tribute to Late Jurist.

Funeral services for Frederick Christian Klein, judge of the St. Joseph Superior court No. 2, will be held from the family residence, 629 W. Colfax av., Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. Archibald McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Judge Klein's death occurred Thursday night at 6:23 o'clock after an illness of eight months, heart trouble being the cause of his demise.

As a mark of respect all St. Joseph county courts were closed Friday, and the St. Joseph Superior court No. 2, over which Judge Klein presided until he was stricken ill last November, met only long enough to adjourn until Monday. The flag over the county building was at half mast.

As a further tribute of respect all business in the St. Joseph county building will be suspended at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Members of the St. Joseph County Bar Association will attend the funeral in a body, and will meet at the circuit room at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The pall bearers will be Mayor Eli F. Seebird, Judge Chester L. DuComb, Judge of the superior court; Dr. Walter H. Baker, H. W. Gillis, Mishawaka; Herman A. Tohlikas, and John I. Schafer.

Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Health Board in Effort to Force Cutting of Weeds

City to Charge Expense to Tax
Assessment if Owners
Ignore Order.

A determined campaign by the city health department to exterminate weeds and rank vegetation within the city by rigid enforcement of the anti-weed ordinance is now under way.

The health department is making a survey of the city, and owners of property infested with weeds or rank vegetation are to be notified to eradicate the nuisance at once.

On failure to heed the order of the health board, the noxious weeds will be ordered by the street department, and the expense incurred by the city will be added to the tax bill of the property owner.

The health department is acting to eradicate weeds and other rank vegetation before they go to seed and pave the way for a great spread of the evil next year.

The health department holds that it has full power by city ordinance to combat the weed evil, and is undertaking to enforce it in the strictest possible manner.

After given its first warning to cut and haul away weeds, and fails the department will immediately order the street commissioner to see that the weeds are cut.

Power by Ordinance.

The sections of the ordinances of the city from which the department derives its powers in this case are sections 2 and 3 of Ordinance No. 1251, adopted Feb. 26, 1906, and are as follows:

"Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of every owner of real estate in the corporate limits of said city of South Bend, State of Indiana, to cut and haul away all weeds or other rank vegetation growing upon his premises or to cause same to be done.

"Sec. 3. On default on such owner to cut and haul away the said weeds or rank vegetation or to cause same to be done as provided in the immediately foregoing section upon five days' notice of the board of health, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner upon order from the board of health, to cause such weeds or rank vegetation to be cut or hauled away. The said street commissioner shall keep an accurate account of the expense thereof which shall be paid from the city treasury upon the sworn voucher of the street commissioner. The said expense shall be a lien upon such property and shall be placed upon the tax duplicate and shall be collected as taxes are collected and turned over to the city treasury. Notice herein provided for may be served upon any owner of real estate by reading or by attaching a copy thereof to the premises affected thereby."

Motorcycle Policeman
Equips Motorcycle To Pick Up Radio Program

Evaders of the law beware, for they may have a longer, swifter reach than ever.

Possibilities of using the radio for purposes other than mere entertainment have been disclosed by Karl Smith, a motorcycle policeman of South Bend. He has installed a receiving set on his machine and reports that by throwing a wire over a tree he can hear the concert broadcast from W B A Q station perfectly.

Though it is generally held that the development of radio communication is still in its infancy, a number of the larger cities of the country, principally Detroit, have recognized the value of radio as a means of quick dissemination of information or orders to capture "crime" and radio equipment, similar to that which Officer Smith has fitted up for himself, is now standard equipment for certain members of the detective and police forces in these cities.

South Bend at present has a means of keeping in touch with members of the police force that has filled the needs of the city, but it is believed to be but a matter of time until radio communication will be installed. The city fathers have not yet given any consideration to such a proposition, but the possibilities of radio communication, as manifested by Officer Smith's experiment, have furnished food for deep thought.

Miss Marie Frizzo of Niles, Mich., was discharged from the Epworth hospital yesterday.

St. Joseph Hospital Staff
Has Clinical Discussion

A clinical meeting, one of the regular features of the staff organization, was held in St. Joseph's hospital last evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. J. H. Morrison, president of the staff, was in charge. Dr. P. C. Traver lectured on "Tuberculosis and the Kidney" and Dr. Harry Boyd-Snee discussed "Otitis Media," a case report.

The purpose of these meetings is to present clinical material that has passed through service in the hospital. Cases are analyzed, conclusions formulated, and then submitted to the staff for discussion.

Thomas J. Lanahan, who was recently appointed traveling passenger representative for the Pennsylvania railroad, was in the city today looking after the company's interests.

STREET BOOTBLACKS LOSE FIGHT AGAINST RICH COMPETITORS

Safety Board Edict Abolishes
All Street Stands After
Aug. 1.

The outdoor shoe shine stands have been ruled out. This decision was reached last night by the board of public safety at their regular weekly meeting after a lengthy discussion between the board members and attorneys representing the shoe shine interests. The present operation of outside stands has been given until Aug. 1 to move indoors.

According to information imparted by Attorneys Walter Clements and Isaac K. Parks of Mishawaka, the agitation against outdoor shoe shine stands is the result of the street fight between Legos and Midos, proprietors of the stand at the corner of Michigan st. and Washington av. and two Greek millionaire shoe stand operators of Grand Rapids, Mich., who shop in this city.

Legos and Midos were represented by Atty. Clements, while Atty. Parks appeared in the interests of the estate of John Kolakis, wealthy Mishawaka restaurateur and shoe stand magnate, who was murdered last Feb. 24.

Kolakis' widow, who resides in the Washington av. shins stand to Legos and Midos for the consideration of $5,000 with a six year lease. The gradual decrease of business prevented the widow from making the stand hers, according to parks and pleaded that if they were ruled out they would become public nuisances.

The Grand Rapids shoe magnate, according to the attorneys, has qualified their great wealth as the result of their practice of importing youths from Greece to be placed in one of their chain of shoe stands. These two men are said to be the owners of the Washington Shoe Shining stand at the corner of Washington av. and were claimed to be the instigators of the shoe shine war. The outside stands of their competitors are said to have aroused the ire of the Grand Rapids shoe stand magnate, who is the widow of John Kolakis.

More than a dozen applicants have besieged Chief Lane for permits to operate shoe stands on the streets since the war first started several months ago. All such requests have been refused since the first of the year, with the result that but two outdoor stands have been operating during the warm weather.

Chief Lane was powerless in his attempt to force the remaining stands from the streets because of an injunction filed against the city. This was dissolved in favor of the city in circuit court this week. After the dissolution of the injunction, Chief Lane issued a notice to the shoe stand operators that outdoor stands must be done away with within five days. In order to allow the proprietors to provide suitable indoor quarters, this notice has been changed to read Aug. 1.

For a time it appeared that the outdoor stands would remain by the city giving a tacit permission to operate. This was largely illusory, however, for the fact that numerous other structures exist such as show window displays, street signs and outdoor display goods.

The state law pertaining to obstruction of the public highway was introduced and after much discussion it was finally decided that the Washington Shoe Shining Parlors, complainants, were within the law, and their complaint was recognized. It was intimated last night that the city will continue to operate with strong indications that cut prices would prevail.

Although the defendant lawyers agreed that they would abide by the decision of the board, it is said the street stand operators are not yet convinced and the board will be requested to do away with all obstructions, even if some of the downtown buildings would have to be moved back to the building line.

Police Raiders Nab
Two Dry Law Breakers

Raid by a police detail Friday resulted in the discovery of a still and the arrest of two on liquor charges. The still was found by Sgt. D. Delinski and Officers Pinter, Winter and Kish at the home of Thomas Ewanowski, 529 S. Chapin st. About a quart of "mule" was secured.

The other raid was made at the drink parlor of Joseph Koko, 1002 W. Washington av., by the same detail early Friday evening. When the officers arrived, Koko's wife and son were standing in front of the parlor and signaling a waiting car. Koko, who was in their home located above the business establishment, and before the officers could get upstairs, Koko had destroyed about a quart of "mule". The police secured another quart before it had been destroyed.
